

Through a scheduling anomaly in the 2008 RMMLA Convention program, the 2008 meeting of the Owen Barfield Society was exceptionally brief, only 30 minutes long. However, it was thoroughly lively and engaging. The meeting consisted almost entirely of an informal discussion of Owen Barfield's Poetic Diction, first published in 1928. In addition to the appreciative contributions and reflections by those present, the discussion included the thoughts about Poetic Diction which several members had emailed to Jane Hipolito for sharing during the meeting. Those present unanimously decided to discuss Owen Barfield's ecological novel Eager Spring (2008) during the Society's 2009 meeting.